

South Korea

Where Is South Korea?

South Korea is a country in Asia.

It has a border with one country, North Korea.

Did You Know...?

South Koreans celebrate New Year twice, once on 1st January and once in February

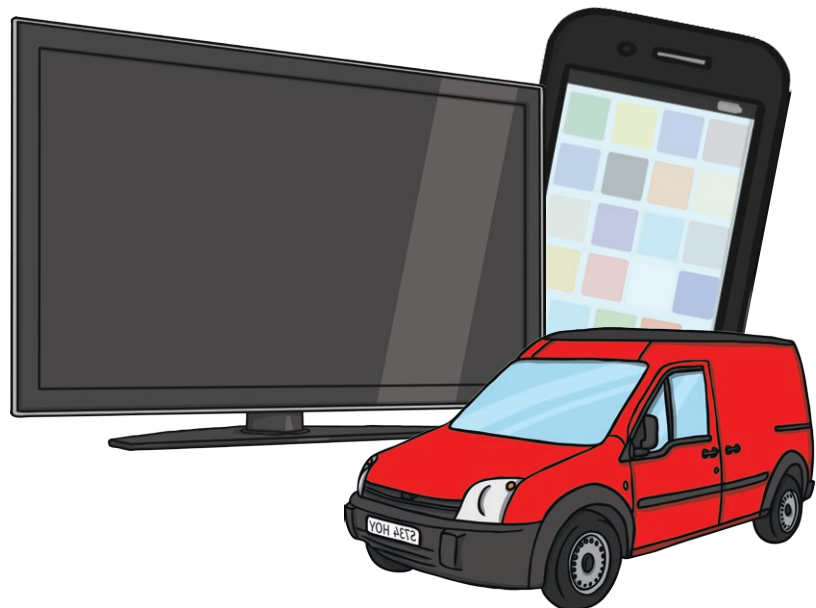

What Is the Weather like in South Korea?

South Korea has four different seasons like the UK. It rains more in the summer than in the winter. In July and August 70cm of rain can fall!

What Is South Korea Famous For?

Lots of things are made in South Korea, including:

- televisions
- cars
- mobile phones
- computer parts
- software

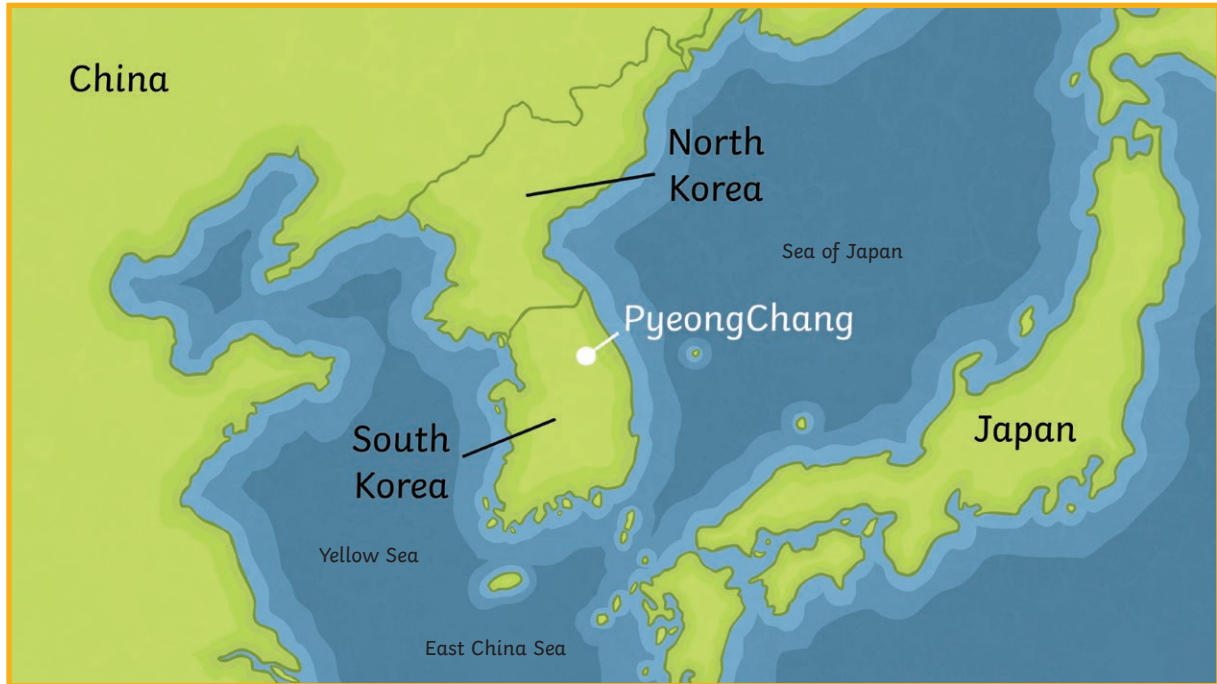

South Korea

Where Is South Korea?

South Korea is a country in Asia.

It has a border with North Korea.

It is surrounded by the Yellow Sea, the East China Sea and the Sea of Japan.

What Is the Weather like in South Korea?

South Korea has four different seasons like the UK. It rains more in the summer than in the winter. July and August are monsoon season, 70cm of rain can fall in those two months!

Wildlife in South Korea

South Korea is home to lots of different kinds of wildlife. Some wild animals, like the amur leopard, are at risk because the areas they live in are being destroyed to make space for new buildings.

Did You Know...?

South Koreans celebrate New Year twice, once on 1st January for the start of the calendar year and once in February for the start of the Lunar New Year. At the end of the lunar new year celebrations, South Koreans fly kites.

What Is South Korea Famous For?

Many things are made in South Korea, including televisions, cars, mobile phones, computer parts and software.

What Do People Eat in South Korea?

Most South Korean meals include rice or noodles with lots of small side dishes of fish, meat or vegetables. These side dishes are called banchan.

Taekwondo

Taekwondo is a popular South Korean sport that involves kicks and jumps to score points against someone else. Athletes gain different coloured belts to show their skill level.

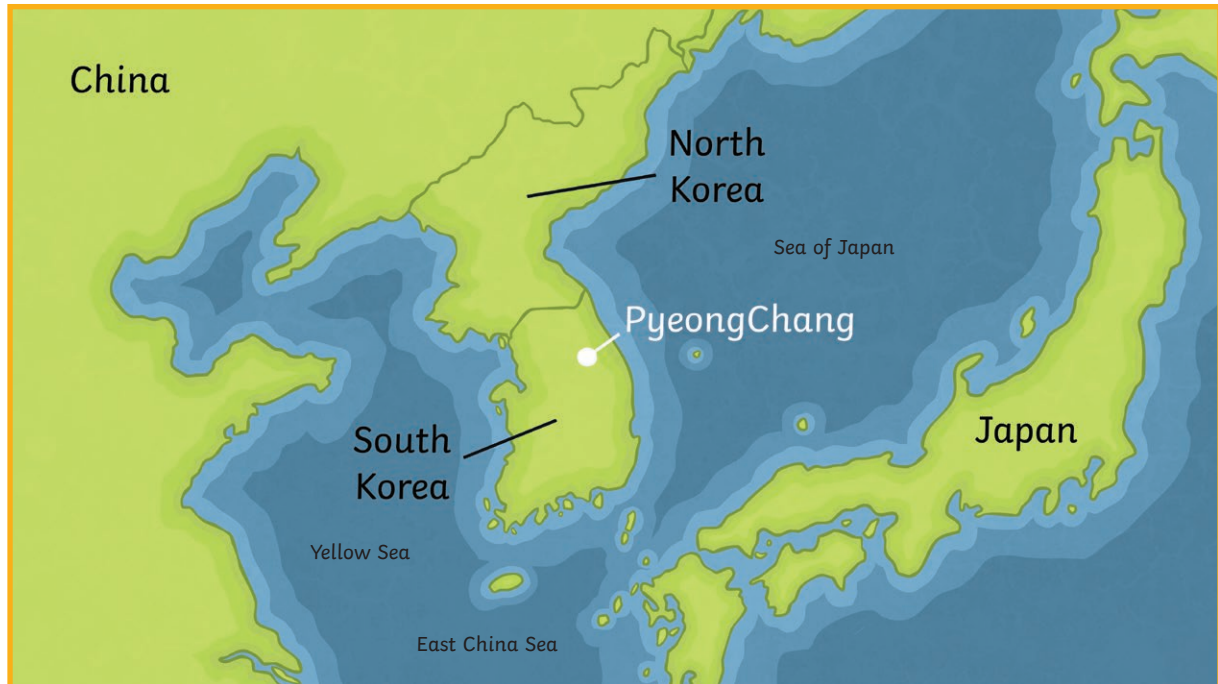

South Korea

Where Is South Korea?

South Korea is a country in Asia. It has a border with North Korea. It is surrounded by the Yellow Sea, the East China Sea and the Sea of Japan.

What Is the Weather like in South Korea?

South Korea has four different seasons like the UK. It rains more in the summer than in the winter. July and August are monsoon season, 70cm of rain can fall in those two months!

Wildlife in South Korea

South Korea is home to lots of different kinds of wildlife because it has a wide range of habitats, including mountains, beaches and marshes. The majority of land in South Korea is forest. Many wild animals, such as the amur leopard, are endangered because their habitats are being destroyed to make space for buildings.

What Is South Korea Famous For?

Many things are made in South Korea, including televisions, cars, mobile phones, computer parts and software. South Koreans love new technology. Some schools even have robot teachers. Children use a computer screen showing the face of a teacher, who could be sitting in another country whilst teaching.

What Do People Eat in South Korea?

Most South Korean meals include rice or noodles with lots of small side dishes of fish, meat or vegetables. These side dishes are called banchan.

Kimchi is South Korea's most popular dish. It is made of spices and vegetables which have been left to brew in a jar for many weeks. It is served with most meals in South Korea.

Hobbies

Taekwondo is a popular Korean sport that involves kicks and jumps to score points against someone else. Athletes earn different coloured belts or ranks to show their level of skill.

Kite flying is a popular hobby in South Korea. At the end of the Lunar New Year celebrations, South Koreans fly kites and then let their kites fly away as they believe all bad luck will be taken away, too.